

Academic English: Speaking and Correspondence (GC101-09)

학기	2026년 1학기
담당교수	Mark Silverlock
이수구분	공통필수
학점	2.0
강의시간	수14:00-17:00(E7 - L27)
강의실
소속	기초학부

교과개요

English language is a tool for thought and communication. With this in mind, the Academic English: Speaking and Correspondence course has been designed to provide meaningful and purposeful interactions where ideas and opinions are developed and expressed by actually using the target language. In particular, this course will focus on spoken communications and correspondence: group discussion, presentation, email, and paragraph writing.

Based on an integrated approach to language skills and collaborative learning, the main activities include participating in group discussions, presentations, group writing, and peer teaching. Students are expected to use English only for all class activities.

교과목표

Language Objectives: By the end of this course, students will be able to learn and use languages and strategies for conversing with others effectively and appropriately; languages and strategies for presenting on a particular topic in front of audience; linguistic fundamentals and etiquettes for writing an email; and, languages and discursive features for writing a paragraph

Behavior/Performance Objectives: By the end of this course, students will

- be able to actively reflect on their learning progress, evaluate their strengths and weaknesses in English and take corrective action as required;
- be more able to think critically when responding to texts and in developing their own thoughts and opinions in English, and by extension, in their native language;
- be more effective in working in partnership with others to achieve collective goals through working as a member of a small group to complete assessments and tasks;
- be able to communicate their thoughts and opinions to others more clearly and completely in English, and be able to respond to others' opinions thoughtfully and appropriately for international communication;
- be able to prepare and deliver basic presentations in English and create appropriate visual aids to accompany the presentations;
- be able to write an inquiry email following email writing conventions;
- be able to write a paragraph with the paragraph structure and discursive features required; and
- be able to understand the problem–solution structure in academic communication.

주차별 강의계획

1주차:

2주차:

3주차:
4주차:
5주차:
6주차:
7주차:
8주차:
9주차:
10주차:
11주차:
12주차:
13주차:
14주차:
15주차:
16주차:

학습윤리

Academic Conduct Policy

Academic dishonesty in any form will not be tolerated. Violations of these rules will result in a record of the violation being placed in your file. You may also receive a failing grade for the course. Confirmation of such incidents can also result in expulsion from the university.

Academic Dishonesty includes:

- ◆ Unauthorized assistance: Using unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise (unless specifically authorized by your professor).
- ◆ Presenting material (through written, visual, electronic, or oral means) which has not been studied or learned, but rather was obtained through someone else's efforts and used as part of an examination, course assignment, or project.
- ◆ Falsifying or misrepresenting your academic work.
- ◆ Plagiarism: In which another's work or ideas are used without indication of the source, thereby conveying the impression that such work is the student's own. (go to <http://www.plagiarism.org/> or <https://www.copykiller.co.kr/notice> to get more information on plagiarism and how to avoid it)
- ◆ Multiple Submissions: Submitting the same work for credit more than once without the express permission of the professor.
- ◆ Any student who knowingly helps another student violate these academic behavior standards is also in violation of the standards.

교과정책(방침)

Attendance Policy

All classes are mandatory and must be attended. If you are unable to attend class, you must advise your professor at least 24 hours prior to your intended absence. If you have a reasonable excuse for your absence, you will be given an excused absence. An excused absence does not negatively affect your final grade, however repeated absences (excused or not) may result in a warning from your professor, after which any further absences may lead to being awarded a failing or incomplete grade in the course.

If you miss class due to ill-health, provide a medical certificate to your professor on the first class meeting after your return to receive your excused absence. If you are absent without a reasonable excuse, you will be marked absent from the class meeting. If you are marked absent 4 or more times during the semester you will receive a failing grade for the course.

Please arrive on time for all class meetings. Three late arrivals will result in being marked as an unexcused absence. Arriving more than 20 minutes after the start of class will automatically be marked as an unexcused absence.

Late Work Policy

There are no make-ups for work completed in class, such as group work or presentations. Any work not completed during class time must be finished and turned in by the due date set by your professor.

If you are absent (even if you have a reasonable excuse), it is your responsibility to find out what work was assigned during the classes you missed and to complete that work by the due date. Failure to submit work by the due date is unacceptable, and the work will not receive any feedback.

Group Work Policy

Everyone must take part in group projects. For various assignments throughout the semester, you will be assigned to a group. Please refer to the assignment info sheet and checkpoints for a full breakdown of grade dissemination.