교과개요

This course will introduce you to some of the main areas of research in contemporary philosophy. Each module a different philosopher will talk you through some of the most important questions and issues in their area of expertise. We'll begin by trying to understand what philosophy is – what are its characteristic aims and methods, and how does it differ from other subjects? Then we'll spend the rest of the course gaining an introductory overview of several different areas of philosophy.

교과목표

Topics you'll learn about will include: Epistemology, where we'll consider what our knowledge of the world and ourselves consists in, and how we come to have it; Philosophy of science, where we'll investigate foundational conceptual issues in scientific research and practice; Philosophy of Mind, where we'll ask questions about what it means for something to have a mind, and how minds should be understood and explained; Political Philosophy, where we'll investigate whether we have an obligation to obey the law; Moral Philosophy, where we'll attempt to understand the nature of our moral judgements and reactions – whether they aim at some objective moral truth, or are mere personal or cultural preferences, and; Metaphysics, where we'll think through some fundamental conceptual questions about free will and the nature of reality.

학습윤리

Plagiarism Policy: Any instance of plagiarism will result in a failing grade (F) for the course. All materials-including phrases, quotations, arguments and ideas-taken from external sources must be properly cited using footnotes and references in either MLA or APA style.

교과정책(방침)

The course is divided into two parts: online lecture sessions and discussion sessions.

Course Participation: Students must complete an online lecture before attending the weekly in-class discussion session. Active participation in discussions is expected.

Assignment Submission: Late submissions will incur a grade reduction. The specific penalty will be outlined in the assignment guidelines.

Posting Questions

(1) Students should complete the assigned reading and post three questions in the LMS "Questions and Answers" section before attending the weekly in-class discussion session.

(2) Two things to note: (a) Post your questions before class time; and (b) Questions should relate to the text (please indicate which page the questions refer to).

(3) Questions posted after attending the weekly in-class discussion session or deemed unrelated to the text will not be counted.
