교과개요

"Reading Poetry" provides a basic approach to the appreciation and analysis of poetry from thematic, theoretical, and historical perspectives. Throughout the course, students will read, write about, and discuss selected poems and essays on poetics from ancient Greek to contemporary times. Each class will consist of an oral presentation, group discussion, and lecture. As the title suggests, students may recite several lines from poems. By the end of the semester, students can expect to have developed a deeper understanding of poetry, and to have it become a part of their lives.

교과목표

This course has three major aims: firstly, to enhance your understanding of poetry; secondly, to help you discover the joy of reading poetry; and finally, to encourage you to become a poet who can express and write about your everyday experiences
